Shinshu Kyokai Mission of Hawaii is a Jodo Shinshu (Japanese Pure Land) Buddhist temple founded in 1914. For over a century, Shinshu Kyokai served as a social, cultural, spiritual, and community center in the Honolulu area. The Mission established the dormitory in 1961 to meet student housing needs for those attending higher education in Honolulu.

Shinshu Kyokai Mission Dormitory

“An international community of students and future leaders”

The Dormitory

The mission of the Shinshu Kyokai Mission Dormitory is to provide a clean and safe environment at a reasonable cost for students while they continue their studies through the completion of their degrees. It is open to all students

The Dormitory is a co-ed facility, with a capacity for housing 24 men and 19 women in single rooms on separate floors. A community bathroom facility is located on each of the three floors.

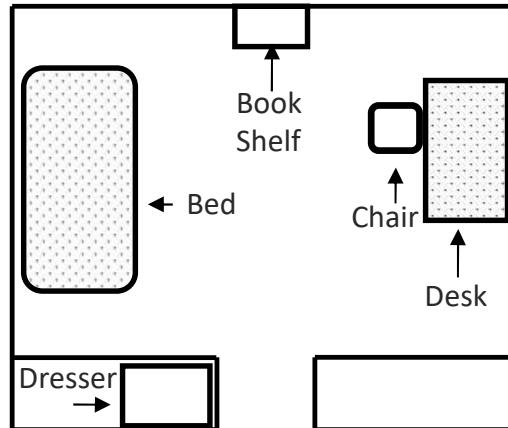

The lounge area on each floor is furnished with cable television; the laundry area is equipped with coin-operated washers and dryers; vending machines stocked with assorted snacks and drinks and a community kitchen are located on the first floor.

Shinshu Kyokai Mission Dormitory is open to all students. A community kitchen is available for residents. Parking gates are closed at 10:00pm and reopen at 6:00am.

Please consider this facility while you pursue your studies in higher education. A visit to the dormitory is encouraged.
